Trail Description/ Key Points of Interest	The trail winds its way through the wilderness of the Georgian Bay landscape. The trail surface is crushed screenings and there is a water crossing boardwalk halfway down the trail that traverses a significant water course. There are many species native to the area that can be seen while spending time on the trail. The former Point aux Pins School House location is a focal point of this trail. Signage is in place at the site that describes the history of the school. The trail also extends parallel along Honey Harbour Rd. and provides access to the Baxter Ward Community Centre.
